Parent Academic Overview
Student-Parent Orientation Program

University of California, Irvine
1. Provide information about preparing for the first day of class

2. Provide tools to help support students with their ongoing academic success

Purpose of Parent Academic Overview
By session’s end, you will know...

- The academic structure of UCI
- What it takes to succeed academically at UCI
- Importance of parent/student communication
- What students should do before classes begin
Academic Advising Services

- Academic planning based on each student’s individual needs
- Referral to campus resources and student academic programs
- Assistance with policies and procedures
- Act as an advocate for students
- Career preparation
- Referral to faculty for research opportunities
- Peer Academic Advising
What does it take to be successful at UCI?
Pursuing the Right Major

- Students succeed in the field of study in which they are most interested
- Many students discover they have started in the wrong major
- 35% of students graduate from a different School than the one they started
- Be flexible about your student’s choice of major
Balancing Student Time

- Academic counselors work with each student throughout the year to determine the best program of study.
- Successful students spend an average of 3 hours studying for every hour in class.
- Employment can result in conflicting responsibilities – be realistic about the number of work hours.
- Can my student graduate in 4 years?
Student Responsibilities

- Know the requirements needed to graduate with a Bachelor’s degree
- Monitor his or her own academic progress
- Attend classes
- Manage time for class preparation
- Communicate with his or her counselor regarding issues and/or concerns about academics or student life
- Become familiar with university resources
- Understand and adhere to university policies, including academic honesty

Note: The registration system is open all summer if your student needs to make changes. They should consult with their academic counselor before making changes to their schedules.
What is Good Academic Standing?

- 2.0 (C) average overall and each quarter
- The academic units track students’ progress each quarter and notify them of any problems.
- It’s common for students to experience some academic difficulty when transitioning from high school – students’ first-year GPAs are usually lower than their high school GPAs.
Tips for soon-to-be college parents:

1. Expect the unexpected.
2. Be available to support and encourage.
3. Make plans for regular communication.
7. Encourage students to do things they can do for themselves.
8. Plan for the ‘big’ day.
9. Give yourself time to adjust to having a student in college.
